

HUNGER VS. INJUNCTIONS.

The Cruel Pinch is Being Felt by Strikers But They Say They're Sanguine.

INJUNCTIONS TAKE A HAND.

Miners Will Force Arrests Under the Injunctions to Gain New Sympathy.

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR AT ANY TIME.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—The strikers this forenoon attempted to pass the deputies that have been placed around the Pottsville mines. The deputies resisted and a fight followed in which one miner was fatally wounded. The strikers are greatly excited and it is feared that serious trouble may result.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The striking miners at Canonsburg have determined to force the injunction issue by continuing the daily marches and meetings in the neighborhood of the McGovern and Canonsburg mines, in spite of the order of Judge McWhiney of Washington, forbidding marches on the public roads leading to the mines. The purpose is to have the men arrested in order to test the legality of the injunction. Patrick Dolan stated that it has been determined to keep up the marches, and as fast as one group is arrested another will take its place. In this movement the support of all the leading trades unions of the county is said to have been pledged.

Miners have struck in the Reynoldsville field, and all the mines of the company are idle. The company is one of the heaviest tonnage producers in the northern fields. No information has been received from the Punxsutawney and Clearfield districts, but at East Brady it was reported that the miners at several pits in those districts are out, the grievances being of a local nature. The usual march of the miners was made at Turtle creek at 4 o'clock this morning, but there was little to encourage the miners.

Lack of food is still the cry, but strikers say they are not disheartened. Serious trouble was threatened at Unity at 4 o'clock this morning, but the miners were routed.

A Wheeling dispatch says: At 2:30 o'clock this morning 250 strikers from over in Ohio marched through Wheeling to the Riverside and Elm Grove mines, where they were joined by the 600 Moundsville, Glendale and Beggs' Run miners, who had been on guard all night. It took only a few minutes' persuasion to close these pits and the whole Panhandle district is now idle, except a few small peddling mines that supply local household demand. This morning reports show less strength in the Kanawha Valley strike. More men have gone to work on both sides of the river.

KNOCKS OUT THE STRIKER.

Sweeping Injunction Granted Against Them Yesterday in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—The much talked of bill for an injunction against the United States Mine-Workers that was to have been filed in the United States courts was filed by the county courts about noon by counsel for the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Company. Judge Collier granted a preliminary injunction restraining and enjoining the defendants from assembling, marching or encamping in proximity to the mines and houses of the miners for the purpose of intimidation, menaces, threats and opprobrious words of preventing the miners of the plaintiff from working. It further restrains the defendants from inducing or compelling any employee or miner to quit work. A hearing was fixed for August 16.

The injunction is regarded as the most sweeping yet issued. President Dolan expressed surprise when informed that it had been granted, and added: "It will make no difference to us. We will not break camp, and will go right along as usual until the matter is tested in the courts. We will stay there regardless of every judge in Allegheny county, and if they try to enforce the injunction they will have to build more jails to accommodate the men."

INJUNCTIONS NOW FIGURE

In the Great Coal Miners' Strike. —What Will Be the Result.

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—Sweeping and far-reaching injunctions now figure in the coal miners' strike. The developments of today make the situation strained and a crisis is near at hand. The strikers have demonstrated that their assemblages, marches and missionary work have materially affected the output, while public sympathy has been enlisted in their cause. The sheriff's proclamation issued two weeks ago, restraining the men from assembling and marching, has been a dead letter and the marches have been continued daily. No disturbances of any kind have occurred, the officials of the miners contriving through the whole time to keep their men within peaceful bounds. The preliminary injunction issued today by Judge Collier and Stowe, now brings the matter to the courts for settlement. The case will be heard on Monday and the decision is looked forward to with much interest. The miners and their officials claim that they are keeping within the law and have the right to assemble in peace and demonstrate to the world that they are being wronged by a rate of wages that keep them constantly at the point of starvation; also that they have a right to use their presence and influence among men who are militating against their interests by continuing at work. Trouble is expected if the strikers continue their marches tomorrow, which they say they will.

GETTING READY FOR TRIAL.

Ex-Congressman Wilson Says His Client Will Be Tried.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 12.—Ex-Congressman Wilson is here this morning. He admits that he has come to prepare for the trial of the indictments against himself, Dr. Hunter, E. T. Franks and others; that they have given up hope of Judge Cantrill sustaining their demurrer, it having since argument was made and briefs filed. "It seems evident," he said, "that we are going to be forced to trial, and as some of our witnesses are remote, it will require a month, at least, to prepare our cases. Among our witnesses will be Gov. Bradley, Senator Blackburn, Phil B. Thompson. We are indicted for conspiracy to bribe. We intend to show that we are the victims of conspiracy."

GOLD IN BIG CHUNKS.

Coffee Creek, Cal., Placer Panning Out Very Richly.

Redding, Cal., Aug. 12.—News was received here last night from Coffee Creek to the effect that $40,000 more of gold dust and nuggets were taken out yesterday afternoon from the pocket from out of which the Graves brothers took their $42,000 last Saturday. Another exceedingly rich discovery of gold is reported on Morris gulch, about two miles from the scene of the Graves brothers' discovery. It is said $13,000 was taken out in one afternoon, and that two miners are taking out gold on an average of $40 to the pan. This strike is on the same vein as the Graves claim, and is supposed to be an extension of the same.

WEST WENT FREE.

Discharged by the United States Commissioner.

Walter West, of Mayfield, had his preliminary hearing this morning before U. S. Commissioner J. R. Puryear, on a charge of violating the revenue laws. He was adjudged not guilty and discharged from custody on account of the absence of witnesses.

MYSTERIOUS BULLET

Overtakes Bill Miller, the Principal Witness in the Colson-Dugan Murder Case.

WAS IT THE RESULT OF A PLOT?

Fatal Passenger Wreck in the Indian Territory on the M. K. & T. R. R.

OTHER LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Cumberland Gap, Tenn., Aug. 13.

—Another sensational chapter was added to the Colson-Dugan murder case last night when "Bill" Miller, the principal witness, was shot to death by some unknown person. It was just after the night's performance of W. C. Clark and Co.'s circus, and at first it was supposed that Miller had met his death at the hands of one of the showmen, since it is said that he quarreled about the price of his ticket.

Just who fired the fatal shot is not known, but every effort is being made to get the murderer, and every man under suspicion is being held pending an investigation, which will be made at once.

A man named Billy Ward came here this morning from Middlesboro, and was employed by Clark & Co. to go with the show. He was in the midst of the fight, and left with two of the showmen as soon as the fight was over. They ran into the mountains, closely followed by officers, but owing to the darkness the officers did not overtake them, although they were several times in shooting distance of them. Hundreds of men are now scouring the mountains.

It is believed by some that Ward came here for the sole purpose of working up a row to get Miller killed. It is claimed by the show people that Miller was not killed by a showman, but by another whom they say they know and can identify, but will not now name.

Miller testified in the Dugan case Wednesday of last week. He swore that John Dugan fired the shot that killed John C. Colson; that in fact Dugan fired the only two shots that were fired; that one of these shots was fired at Colson and the other at Miller. He said Dugan was only about four feet away from Colson at the time of the shooting. Miller's testimony was weakened somewhat in the cross-examination.

Dugan, in his testimony in his own behalf, accused Miller of killing John C. Colson. He said the killing was an accident, Miller shooting at him (Dugan) during a quarrel and the bullet striking Colson.

According to the testimony neither Miller nor Dugan had any bad feeling against Colson.

An attempt by the prosecution to prove Miller's good character was not very successful, all the witnesses admitting that his reputation was not good.

OFF FOR CHINA.

Miss Alice Waters Leaves to Resume Her Missionary Labors Among the Heathen.

Miss Alice Waters arrived in the city this morning from Murray, and left the union depot at 12:10 for Chicago, thence to Vancouver, B. C. from which place she will sail immediately for China, where she will again become a missionary, after an eighteen months' residence in America.

Miss Waters was for three years an earnest worker in the Flower

Kingdom, and liked the work so well that she concluded to return. Her return will require several weeks of tiresome traveling.

She is well known and popular in Murray, her old home, and carries with her the best wishes of all.

POPULISTS

May Have to Petition to Get on the Ballot.

Frankfort, Aug. 13.—How are the Populists to get on the official ballot this fall? is a question that was sprung here yesterday for the first time. To entitle a party to recognition by the secretary of state in preparing the official state ballot, the party must have received 2 per cent. of the vote cast at the last general election. The Populists had no general or state candidate last fall, owing to their Bryan-Watson-Seawall fusion with the Popocrats, and while they voted for Populist nominees for congress in some districts, have no record of any state vote at that election. Some Populists of Shelby county wrote here about the matter, and Messrs. Dennis and Bridgeford, local Populists, called on the secretary of state. The latter went over the situation with them, and admitted the existence of a doubt about his authority to put Parker on the ballot he will prepare. He thought the only thing for him to do in the premises was to follow the advice of the attorney general, the law officer of the state. He went over with the committee to see the attorney general, but the latter was at Georgetown in the case of the insurance commissioner against the Kentucky Life and Accident Insurance Company. It is the general opinion here that the attorney general will hold and the secretary rule that the Populists can get on the ballot only by petition. There are complications, however, as the petition requisite might not apply to the district and county races where there was a Populist vote last fall.

MARK HANNA IN PERIL.

Steam Yacht Ashore With a Party On Board. Believed to be in Serious Danger, as the Appeal for Help is an Urgent One.

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 12.—The steam yacht Comanche, with Senator M. A. Hanna's party on board, is ashore somewhere in the Nipigon straits, on the north shore of Lake Superior. The boat seems to be in serious danger, as the telegram calling for assistance asked that two wrecking tugs and a lighter be sent at once. The tugboats sent from Nipigon Station on the Canadian Pacific.

The Comanche left here Tuesday morning for a cruise along the north shore. Senator Hanna's party up to that time had had a delightful trip, and had met with no mishaps. The place where the yacht came to disastery is of rocky formation, channels being dotted with many small islands. It is considered dangerous for any except experienced pilots.

The party on board the Comanche included Senator and Mrs. Hanna and daughters, Mabel and Ruth, of Cleveland; ex-Gov. and Mrs. Miriam, of Minnesota, who were taken on at Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. Gosline, of Toledo; Miss McCurdy, of Cleveland, and Mr. Berry, of Toledo.

The yacht left Cleveland on the evening of July 31st for a cruise of the great lakes. The Comanche is steel, thoroughly seaworthy, and was used by Senator Hanna's brother last summer in his cruise of the West Indies.

News From Illinois.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 12.—Over 300 striking miners from Lincoln and Springfield are camping tonight at Niantic. The miners there still working. Sheriff Nicholson and Mayor Taylor drove to Niantic this afternoon and advised the marching miners not to come to Decatur and told them any indication of violence would meet with prompt measures of repression. The Decatur miners say that they will stay at work and they will be fully protected. The marchers will reach here tomorrow. Trouble is then expected.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL STOCK

Goes Up to $107.50.—Big Increase.

Notes of Interest in Railroad Circles.

Illinois Central stock went up today from $102.50, at which price it was quoted the first of the month to $107.50, a share for employees, at which price it will be sold during this month, unless there is another rise. This increase is due to the unprecedented increase in business, which is increasing daily. Railroad men fully expect to see the stock go up again.

Today the increase in business necessitated the installation of another dispatcher at the Illinois Central office here. This is three on day duty, the new dispatcher being Mr. N. E. Helton. Dispatcher Alvey, who has been on at night instead of Dispatcher Bennett, who has been ill, resumed day work this afternoon, and Mr. Bennett will return to work tonight.

New cars will soon be rolling on the tracks of the Evansville division of the Illinois Central, which has asked for bids on two hundred stock cars. Its traffic of that class has nearly doubled in the last three years.

John Bathrop, aged 19, had his right foot so badly mangled at Bakersport, on the I. C. yesterday while attempting to board a train, that amputation will be necessary. He lives in Clarksville, Tenn., and pretended to steal a ride.

Air expert Wheeler, of Chicago arrived yesterday to place new air valves on all the locomotives of this division.

The colored tramp who had his foot cut off at Bakersport last night was brought to the city at noon and placed in the railroad hospital.

Owing to the big business that is being done, an extra switch engine was put on in the I. C. yards at noon, in charge of Foreman Leroy. It will be maintained as long as business remains good.

One hundred and thirty-seven car loads of coal left the yards here today. Seventy-two were sent to La Salle, Memphis and Mounds, while sixty-five went up the road.

KILLS THE TANNERS.

St. Louis, Aug. 12.—The tannery at Falls Creek, Pa., Aug. 12.—The Falls Creek tannery, at Falls Creek, this county, has closed down because of the appearance of a peculiar and terrible disease among the employees, who die within a few hours after they are seized. It is supposed to be caused by handling some hides which were imported from China and contained the germs of some unknown and dangerous disease.

Measures will be undertaken to stamp it out before it spreads any further.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 13, 1897.

The "Register" this morning publishes a card from Capt. Ed Farley emphatically denying the charge made in the "Register" of yesterday that he, Capt. Farley, went to Cairo Saturday because "there were too many negroes celebrating that day" in Paducah. The statement of the "Register", which it utilized as the basis for one of its peculiar editorials, was false on its face and any thinking man would have so recognized it. It is to be hoped that this experience of the "Register" will teach its amateur editor that it would be well to verify slanderous statements before publishing them. The editor of the "Register" should also learn that the editorial columns of a paper are no place to vent personal spite. Dignified and honest criticism is desirable, but slanderous articles based on hearsay are contemptible and are never found in reputable papers.

THE EUROPEAN CROPS.

Wheat is going up at a rate that causes surprise even to the veteran speculators of Chicago and New York. Yesterday it rose to 84 cents in Chicago, while 89% was the top notch in New York. Dollar wheat seems not only a possibility but even a probability. On the other hand, many believe that the top is almost reached. Wheat is following the law of supply and demand, the supply in this country being enormous, while the European supply is very short. The "Courier-Journal" summarizes an article from the London "Economist" which is very interesting at the present time. The "Courier-Journal" says:

The latest number of the London "Economist" to reach this country, that of July 31, contains an interesting review of the harvest at home and abroad. His conclusion is that, on the whole, Great Britain is much better off than the continent. Wheat is the poorest of the English cereal crops, but it is still passable. The potato crop, it is feared, will be very poor; but corn, hay, roots and tubers all promise well or passable.

Across the channel the situation is not so good. It estimates the French wheat crop at only 35,000,000 quarters, or 280,000,000 bushels, which is 40,000,000 bushels less than the crop of 1896. The rye crop, a very important one, is poor and potatoes and forage are disappointing. The Italian wheat crop is short 32,000,000 bushels. The official estimate of the Hungarian crop puts it at 108,000,000, which is 32,000,000 bushels less than was grown in 1896. Russian reports, while conflicting, leave little doubt that there will be a considerable shrinkage in wheat and rye. Roumania, Bulgaria and European Turkey have so suffered from floods and other outward circumstances that there will be a reduction of fully 30 per cent. from last year's abundant yield. The German deficiency is small, while Holland, Belgium, Denmark and Sweden have average crops and Spain has a good one.

The "Economist" concludes that on the whole there will be less wheat grown in Europe this year than last by 30,000,000 quarters or 240,000,000 bushels. To make up for this it says the chief reliance is in the big crops of the United States, as neither Australia nor India will have a surplus. What Argentina will produce can not be told until it is learned whether the locusts' eggs, which with the country is covered, will hatch to cause the destruction suffered last year. The "Economist" concludes by saying that Russia last year surprised the world by a much larger production of wheat than was generally expected, and that speculators will be cautious until it is certain that the experience will not be repeated this season. "At the best, however," it says, "it can hardly be regarded as possible that the world's wheat crop equal that of last year."

This summary of the crop conditions of the Old World shows plainly enough whence comes the prosperity which is relieving the United States from the grip of the great panic. Wheat may not raise to one dollar and bushel by Thanksgiving, as Phil Armour predicts, but it is bound to sell at a very pretty price. What is of equal importance is that the enormous imports of corn must continue and that thus the price of this cereal, which is the leader of American agriculture, must be more remunerative figure. The outlook is equally good for 1898, since this year, as the last, all the visible supplies of grain will be drawn upon from every quarter, cleaning up the markets for the next harvest.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

Newsp Notes from the Late Republican Gathering at Louisville.

A Brief Sketch of the Nominee for Appellate Clerk and Other Items of Interest.

Over 800 delegates were present out of 1090 that were entitled to seats on the floor. This was a remarkable showing, considering that this is an off year. But Kentuckians are always ready to enjoy a political gathering, and this year's election is one of great importance.

Every county in the First District was represented and the number and enthusiasm of her delegates showed that Democracy's Gibraltar is in danger. Senator Deboe is our district chairman, but as he was unable to attend the district convention held Tuesday morning, J. H. Happy ably filled his place.

While the convention had but one nominee to make, it developed a large number of aspirants for official preferment at the next state convention in 1899, when a full ticket will be nominated. The following well-known Republicans are being groomed by their friends for governor: Judge George Denny, Gen. Taylor, present attorney general, State Auditor Sam Stone, Judge W. H. Holt, Judge James Breathitt, of Christian county and present circuit judge, Sam J. Roberts, the brilliant editor of the Lexington Leader, and chairman of the last state campaign committee. It is thus seen that the G. O. P. will not suffer for want of gubernatorial timber two years hence.

There were suspicious evidences of prospective candidates for the remaining places on the state ticket. Two years, however, is ample time to develop aspirations, and it is evident that no office will go without an eager taker.

There is a marked contrast between the feeling now and in former years. The state convention of 1891, held at Lexington, had to importune available persons to accept certain places on the ticket, and even the number of candidates before the convention of 1895 was remarkably small.

San Roberts and Senator Deboe were the most popular men at the convention. Senator Deboe's speech was well delivered and met a cordial reception especially his reference to civil service reform.

"Senator" Wood and Judge Holt were familiar figures and both have the reputation of being always on hand when the interest of the party is at stake. Major Wood had the honor of being the first Republican to knock at the doors of the U. S. Senate for admission, bearing his commission from Governor Bradley. Senator Deboe's election out of the Major's term, but with his friends, which are numerous, he will always be "Senator."

No Republican leader in the state is better known than Judge Holt. His record on the supreme bench of the state was an honor to his party and a credit to himself. He has made many tours of the state delivering speeches during campaigns and his oratory is noted for its force and candor. The Republican party needs more men like Judge Holt.

John Feland, Jr.'s speech in withdrawing from the race for clerk of the court of appeals, while ill-timed and possibly inappropriate, was one of the wittiest bits of sarcasm ever delivered before a convention. His plea in behalf of Western Kentucky was most just and made many a warm friend for himself. There is too much of a tendency in both of the old parties to act upon the assumption that the western end of the state is good enough to vote but not quite up to the office holding standard. Mr. Feland hails from Christian county and is one of the best speakers in the state.

Mr. J. G. Bailey, the nominee of the convention for clerk of the court of appeals, is a young man but twenty-nine years of age. He has attained his prominence by his own exertions and certainly deserves great credit. He is a member of the present legislature from Magoffin county and attracted the attention of the Republicans of the state by his ability as a speaker and his devotion to his duties as a representative. He is a scholar as well as an orator and he will be a vote winner in the coming campaign. It is his intention thoroughly to canvass the whole state and we predict that the speaker who attempts to meet him in joint debate will find himself overwhelmed.

it was only with the greatest difficulty that he succeeded in completing the public school education provided in Magoffin county. For a time he then taught school in his native county in order to earn money enough to carry him through college. From 1890 to 1892, inclusive, he attended the Lebanon (Ohio) college, and in 1894 attended the Northern Indiana Law College at Valparaiso, Ind.

Returning home in 1895 he was made deputy circuit clerk of Magoffin county, and later in the same year was elected to the state legislature. During his short service in that body he made a reputation not only as a faithful worker, but as a splendid speaker.

Mr. Bailey, if elected, will be the first Republican from the Tenth district to secure a state office of any prominence. From more points than one his nomination is a good one. Being a man from the mountains, he knows how to reach the people of that section better than any other candidate could possibly hope to do, and will, as a consequence, succeed in bringing out the immense Republican vote in the mountain districts of the state.

However, he does not propose to rest there. Some time ago, in talking to the "Leader" he stated that it was his intention to stump the entire state, and to speak in every county of the state.

The speech of Secretary of State Finley in nominating Mr. Bailey was a masterly piece of oratory and displayed much thought, but it was rather too sophomoric to catch the average convention goer. Charley Finley, however, comes from splendid stock. His father is one of the old war horses that lead the Republicans to their earliest victories in Southern Kentucky, and the name of Judge Frank Finley is one of the honored ones of the state.

Judge Denny presided over the convention with firmness and ability, at the same time adding to his popularity by his fair decisions.

Mr. K. J. Hampton, who is Secretary of the State Central Committee, has been selected as chairman of the campaign committee. He will be the right man in the right place, as it has been already demonstrated that there is no better organizer in the party than Hampton.

The convention was harmonious in the extreme, not even a disturbing ripple appearing, and everything was done unanimously.

Did Not Materialize.—Miller Skipped and Carried the Cash With Him.

MANY PEOPLE VICTIMIZED.

Prof. J. M. Miller is the name a glib-tongued stranger gave when he came to Paducah a couple of weeks ago and began making preparations to give an excursion for school children. He seemed to be almost twenty-two years of age, was well dressed, but was not a man to inspire one with his honesty by his appearance.

He claimed to be a school teacher, and said he wanted to give an excursion for the benefit of school children. He made arrangements with Capt. Owen and chartered the steamer Bettie Owen. He then began making preparations to do everybody on a wholesale plan. He offered a gold watch to the one who sold the most tickets, had an infinite number of handbills and doggers printed, run his "t" locals with ineffable indifference in the newspapers, and in the sale of tickets was himself quite active. For a week or more children as well as others were busy selling tickets for the excursion, which was to have come off last night. It failed to materialize, however. The boat was due to leave at 6:30 o'clock, but this was a little too early for the crowd, and at 8 o'clock she was still there, steam up, ready to start.

Miller was there, and had been selling tickets right along. About 8 o'clock he disappeared up the levee, and that was the last seen of him. The impatient crowd grew more impatient, and finally it dawned on Capt. Owen that Miller was crooked, and had skipped, and the outing was declared off, much to the chagrin of the crowd, and the humiliation of Capt. Owen, who had never, in all his experience, been so successfully hoodwinked before.

The police were at once notified, and although they kept a close lookout at the trains and made a diligent search for the fugitive fraud, no trace of him could be found. He was too elusive to be caught that way, and was doubtless well out of reach before they began looking for him.

Miller gave his excursion a very appropriate title—"school children's excursion"—as it has taught them all a valuable lesson—not to put too much confidence in the delusive smiles and promises of strange men. Hotels, print shops, newspapers—all came in for their share of loss. Mike Reid had a stand on the boat, with two fine hams sliced up to retail at the small sum of 5 cents a slice. "Twas a blow that most killed Michael when the news was broken to him. "Gotta tam sech soundrel beast!" yelled Mike; roba po' dago outa alla he got." Miller is said to have been a resident of Metropolis, or to have come here from there. He is only one of such men who are dodging about the country, living off the charity and credulity of the people. If he should be caught the people of Paducah will take great pleasure in assisting him on his way to Eddyville. He must have carried off $100 or more.

GOOD OPENING.

Electric Light Racing Draws a Good Crowd for the First Night.

Results of Last Night's Events.—Interesting Program Arranged for Today.

A large crowd went out last night to witness the first evening's events of the continuous electric light racing. The failure of the thirty-two-candle power lights to arrive occasioned some trouble, but the track will hereafter be amply lighted, the thirty-two-candle power globes arriving today.

The demonstration of appreciation shown by the people last night was very gratifying to the association, and the races were good. The results are as follows:

First race—1/2 mile heats: Finis first, Daily Reed second, Hella third. Time, 5:14—5:32.
Second race—1/2 mile: Palmyra first, Little Eli second, Cora T. third. Time, 1:05.
Third race—1/2 mile: Upan first, Crab Cider second, Moses Solomon third. Time, 1:17.

The striking miners in the Pittsburgh district are making little headway, if they are not losing ground. Not only are the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company's mines working, but others are also in operation in the district. Agitators Knight and Llewellyn, of the Indiana mine workers, now at Evansville, will proceed from there to Earlinton, Ky. The crusaders are still at Evansville. Five mines are still in operation there, but the agitators claim the men have promised to strike.

BROWN AND BRUNER.

They Get Out of Trouble Temporarily.

Writ of Error Granted.—Case to Be Heard in October.

A writ of error has been granted by Judge Boggs in the case of Brown and Bruner, the Metropolis ex-bankers sentenced to the penitentiary for embezzlement. This serves to arrest execution of judgment until the supreme court passes upon the case.

The defense counsel's attorneys secured the writ of supersedeas in their clients' case and their bond has been filed. The two gentlemen returned Monday from Marion, where they have been detained for some time.

They appealed to the supreme court, and will have a hearing next October or some other session thereafter. Judge Boggs, the newly elected judge, granted the writ.

As will no doubt be remembered by Paducahans, the prisoners were sentenced to one year each and a fine of $500 for alleged bank frauds.

WENT TO EDDYVILLE.

Contractor Katterjohn Called There Today on Important Business.

All Bids for the Penitentiary Work Rejected at Frankfort.

Contractor F. W. Katterjohn was called to Eddyville this morning by a telegram soliciting another conference relative to the reconstruction of penitentiary buildings destroyed by fire last year.

Mr. Katterjohn returned at noon yesterday from Frankfort, where the bids for the work were opened at the capitol building the day before. They were:

Wm. Brazier, $25,550.

Princeton Lumber Company, $34,365.

Kreiger & Co., Henderson, $29,190.

Panky & Gaines, Louisville, $25,800.

F. W. Katterjohn & Co., Paducah, $25,653.

There was only one bid, as can be seen from the above, that was lower than Mr. Katterjohn's, and this was the first, which was thrown out by the commissioners, because of several clauses in it, one of which specified that the state furnish all stones necessary in the construction.

Mr. Katterjohn would have secured the contract had it been let, but all bids were rejected because the appropriation for the work is only $20,000.

New bids will be advertised for, and Mr. Katterjohn says he wants the job and intends to have it.

Acetylene Gas.

We are now prepared to place on the market our machines for generating Acetylene Gas. These machines are adapted for lighting stores, factories, churches and private residences. Small towns and farmers can now have gas as well as those in the cities, as each consumer controls his own little gas plant, which is quite inexpensive. We guarantee to furnish six times as much light at less than half the expense of ordinary gas, electric light or kerosene lamps. A first-class agent is wanted in every county to sell our machines.

TOLEDO ACETYLENE GAS CO., 6412

Tickets for the electric light races can be bought on all street cars for 25 cents. This includes car fare both ways. Ladies and small children will be admitted free.

CAPT. OWEN DECEIVED.

He Gives His Experience With Prof. Miller.

Capt. Owen stated to a Sun reporter this morning that Miller first impressed him as being a very gentle young man.

He first saw him about a week or ten days ago, and the "professor" then informed him that the school children of Paducah had been promised an open air excursion before vacation was over and that as the school board had evinced no inclination to make good the promise the teachers had decided to do so. He claimed to be in co-operation with a number of the best known teachers, and said if the excursion was not a financial success they would themselves make good the loss; if any money was left above the actual expenses of the outing it was to go to the high school library fund.

When he got the captain's rate he left, saying he would consult the other teachers and then report back. The following day he returned, accompanied by two other men, dressed month as consulting engineer in the construction of the sewerage system, will arrive in the morning from Memphis and at once begin work.

be compelled to live many months on the rough face of the mountain, unless they give up the race for wealth and fight their way over terrible obstacles back to Dyce. Their horses have died like sheep. The way is cut off before and behind. The trail back to Dyce and Juneau will have to be cut in the face of severe storms and terrible winds. Those who determine not to return will have to face the fierce rigors of an arctic winter hundreds of miles from the point they wished to reach.

The storm that swept over the Northwest is said to be the prelude of an exceptionally severe winter, and it is predicted that the frozen bodies of many of the miners will lie miles from the promised land before new trails can be opened.

Details of the sufferings of the gold seekers who have taken the overland route are harrowing. At the foot of Dyce and Skagway passes tons of food have been blocked for lack of horses and Indians to carry them to the lakes.

Lakes which lead to the Klondike. Some of the miners have sold their outfits and are returning to civilization and warmth before the arctic winter sets in. Others, and these are said to be the least experienced, are pressing forward with but half their supplies, so intense is the fever which is sending them to the Klondike.

It is these men, and they are numbered by the thousands, who have been caught in the terrific storm which wrecked the Mexico.

How many have already lost their lives is not known. The overland route to the Klondike will be strewn with corpses, according to the old miners who have already tried the rigors of the Alaskan climate. Even those who have been able to get through the passes to the lakes can not proceed farther. The lakes have been swollen to such an extent and the rapids have been rendered so dangerous that it has been found impossible to push forward.
